

The Adventures of Popsie, Gigi & Louli

As summer comes to an end, Popsie, a small and charming triceratops, sighs in despair.

Despite munching on the grass of the flat land with her tiny teeth, it's all in vain: much like flowers in autumn, her beautiful pink crest is about to fade away.

As she searches for a solution to avoid the worst, a lovely dragonfly with delicate wings, Louli, starts fluttering around her.

Bold and determined, Louli lands on Popsie's shoulder and whispers in her ear,

"It's by nourishing yourself with good things that you will radiate from the inside, as well as the outside."

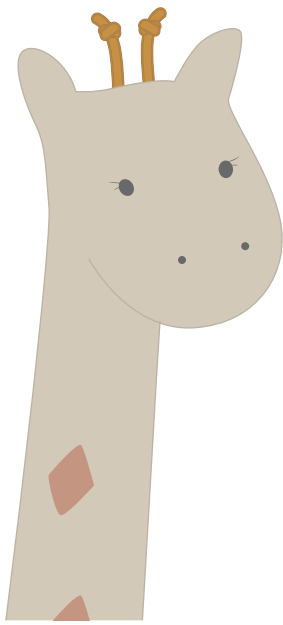

"Eureka!" exclaims Popsie. No more doubt, she knows that on her friend Gigi's land, an adorable giraffe with a graceful neck, she will find what she needs to regain her strength and beautiful colors.

With Louli as her guide, she sets off towards the lush savannah, eager to reunite with Gigi and taste her sun-soaked fruits and vegetables.

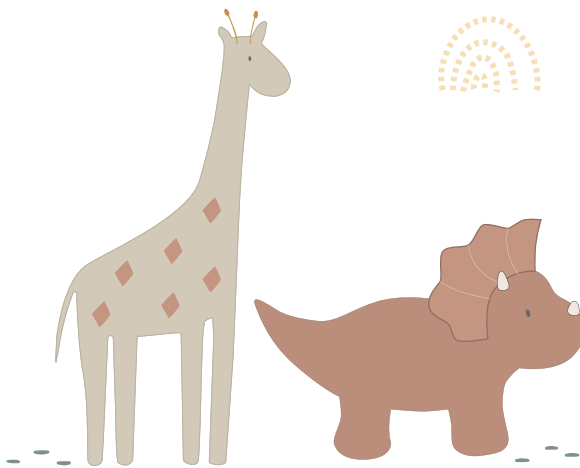

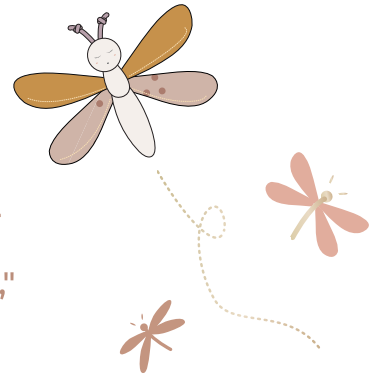

After a whole day of walking, the two travelers finally catch a glimpse of a dazzling rainbow in the distance.

"It's the entrance to the rainforest," shouts Louli.

And as they barely cross it, Popsie suddenly hears her name being called through the curtain of vines.

- "Popsie, is that really you?"
- "Gigi !", exclaims Popsie, throwing herself into her friend's arms.
- "What brings you around here?", asks Gigi.
- "The cold has invaded the flat land, and my crest is looking dull. I'm hoping to find something here to restore its colors," explains Popsie.
- "You're in the right place! Get ready to witness the miracle of nature," responds Gigi, delighted by this wonderful surprise.

Without further ado, the two friends venture deeper into the savannah, accompanied by Louli. With her wings beating the rhythm, the little dragonfly sets the pace for their joyful stroll.

Along the way, Gigi picks a lemon here and a carrot there, offering them to Popsie, who gradually regains her smile and energy.

Meanwhile, Louli joyfully twirls between palm trees and coconut trees, discovering them for the first time!

On their way Popsie offers her friend Gigi a beautiful flower necklace to thank her for these wonderful discoveries.

In return, Gigi playfully dabs Popsie's lips with red using fresh strawberries.

By the end of the day, refreshed and invigorated by this gourmet journey through the jungle, the three companions settle in the shade of a gigantic palm tree, not far from a creek.

Popsie takes the opportunity to gaze at herself in the water. How surprised she is to see her reflection transformed!

Impressed by the benefits this adventure in an uncharted territory has brought her, she thanks Louli for guiding her safely and Gigi for sharing the sweet and savory delights of the savannah. Without them, she couldn't have saved her beautiful crest or her good mood from the freezing cold of the flat land.
