

The adventures of

Anna & Milo

Beyond the clouds, the night is falling on a star-sprinkled galaxy.

Welcome to the Milky Way, a smooth path of light and darkness where stars glow stronger to reach the Earth and where children are slipping under the covers, getting ready for some magical dreams.

Nearby, hanging somewhere around the universe, an adventurous little tiger who goes by name of Milo comes and goes aboard his hot air balloon, pursuing a sacred mission:

finding the magic formula to give Planet Earth its bright colours and clean air back.

After a long and exhausting journey, Milo decides to take a break and lands gently on the Milky Way.

He finally gets off his vessel and enjoys the feeling of his paws touching the starry soil he had not run around for so long. Dazzled by the surrounding sparkle, he picks up a star from the ground and addresses it his dearest wish:

-Dear little star, please help me save the Earth!
If you hear this, I beg you, give me a sign!"

As soon as he reopens his eyes, he sees in the distance a familiar figure. It's Anna's, his lifelong friend!

A small elephant always in a good mood and willing to lend a helping hand, Anna has turned the Milky Way into her playground.

There she spends her days taming the stars and feasting on their beauty. From afar, Milo watches her roll into the stars and burst into laughter.

Her joyous mood is so infectious that he decides to join her and to share with her this great moment of happiness.

He has missed her so much!

A feeling that seems to be mutual considered that Anna, who soon recognizes him, jumps into his arms and hugs him, wrapping her trunk around his silky fur.

After a long cuddle, Anna smiles at her friend and says :

- The stars have revealed your wish to me and, with their help, I would like to assist you in your mission. Together, let's bring the Earth on its path to recovery!

Without waiting for a reaction from her skeptical friend, Anna grabs a trunkful of glowing stars. She then turns to the Earth, light-years away from her, and blows towards it the shiny treasures she was holding in her trunk.

Before his wondering eyes, Milo watches the Earth light up under this enchanting blast of fresh stars.

The thick haze that has been covering the Earth for so long finally gives way to the bright sun, and the dark shade coating the oceans transforms into an intense blue colour.

It only takes Milo a second to understand that Anna has a magical power that seems to be the perfect solution for his mission!

-Would you join me aboard my balloon and help me save the Earth?" he asks with a feeling of happiness he thought he had lost forever.

Without the slightest hesitation, Anna hops into the vessel, after collecting enough stars to ensure a successful mission alongside her best friend.

A few minutes later, our two companions are floating in the direction of the Earth for more extraordinary adventures.

